CANDIDATE STATEMENT: In 300 words or less, state why the role is of interest to you, what you hope to bring to the design community through a position on the chapter board.

As a design professional and former Student Representative on the board, I've seen firsthand the power of thoughtful communication in strengthening our design community. I'm excited to return in a new capacity, as Communications Director, to help elevate the voices, work, and impact of our members.

This role speaks to both my creative background and my passion for connection. I believe good design starts with good storytelling, sharing not only what we do, but why it matters. I hope to bring clarity, consistency, and creativity to our chapter's communications, helping foster deeper engagement across platforms and among members at every stage of their careers.

Through this position, I aim to highlight the diversity and talent within our chapter, spotlight member achievements, and create more opportunities for connection, whether through newsletters, social media, or in-person events. My goal is to ensure every member feels seen, valued, and informed.
